New Business

Directors and managers from each of the programs funded through S&A fees are meeting with the fee board to talk about their programs. At this meeting, the board met with the following:

- Sustainability Program - Ian Sidak- Interim Coordinator
  - The Sustainability Program staff met with the board to talk about what the program does. Ian explained that the students created the Sustainability Program five years ago and Christian Rusby was the coordinator up until this past September when he resigned to move to Portland, OR. Ian is the coordinator at the Seattle College's district office and his job is to coordinate sustainability programs at each of the three campuses. He is at North part time as an interim coordinator while they are starting the process of finding a permanent coordinator.
  - Ian and Christoph Strouse, student employee in the office, explained to the group that they have three directives:
    - Getting people engaged in the sustainability mind set
    - Student outreach – getting students involved in projects that they can do on campus – could get credit from an instructor in some cases
    - Events on campus that promote sustainability – earth day, film series, campus wide conversations etc.
  - There was much discussion about projects they are working on and how students and staff can get involved.
