ARTS, LECTURES AND ACTIVITIES BOARD

Honor the memory of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. by being of service to others!

The Women's Center and Student Leadership are organizing an MLK Service Fair on Tuesday January 19, 11am-1pm in the Grove. Come out and learn about volunteer opportunities in the community! You will also find information about resources and events off-campus. Local non-profits from the education, youth, social justice, and medical fields will be in attendance.

Free counseling for students at North!

Feeling stressed about school, work, and your other responsibilities? Need some advice on how to cope with anxiety? All students can make a free appointment with Counseling Services. Their office is located on the second floor of the College Center (CC2345) and you can reach them at (206) 934-3676. Additional resources are available at northseattle.edu/counseling

There is still time to publish your writing or artwork and win $100!

Our literary magazine, the Licton Springs Review, wants your work! Submit your art, poetry, essays, and fiction to LSR@seattlecolleges.edu by January 31, 2016. For more information, please visit www.lictonspringsreview.com.

Sustainability Committee – New Winter Quarter Projects

During the December 10th meeting, the Sustainability Committee discussed having a corner for electronic recycling and battery collections/drop off. This would be beneficial for those who want to dispose of their electronic gadgets. The committee is also coming up with an Earth Day event on the 22nd of April, and planning a trip to a water treatment facility. Students and faculty alike are encouraged to participate! Look for details and updates in the next newsletter!

WinterFest and Club Fair on Thu Jan 21 in the Grove, 11:00-1:00

- ♦ Club Fair: Stop by for some free cotton candy and learn about the many student clubs that are active at North! You will have a chance to meet the club leaders and advisors, ask the Club Coordinator about starting your own, and relax with Mario Kart!
- ♦ WinterFest: This Welcome Back event offers live music, a hot chocolate bar, a chainsaw ice sculpting demonstration (!), a photo booth, and games! All activities are just outside the Grove, in a heated tent in the courtyard. Please stop by and enjoy the attractions!

Great Opportunity for LGBTQIA+ Students and Allies!

Student Leadership is sponsoring a trip to the Queer I Am Summit in Olympia, March 25-26. This two-day conference is packed full of workshops, fun, and community-building activities. Apply to attend if you want to learn more about LGBTQ history and culture, be among diverse individuals who make up the queer community, and feel supported and proud of your identity!

Applications are due February 26. If accepted, all your expenses will be paid, including food, transportation, hotel, and registration fees. Students will go to the Queer I Am Summit with a small group of peers and LGBTQ-identified staff/advisors. Note that the event takes place over spring break—you won't miss school, but check your Easter plans.

Applications are available at the Student Leadership office (CC1446), the library Reference Desk, and online:

No More Placement Tests at North? Curriculum Academic Standards Committee (CAS) Report

Some big changes are coming to North Seattle College regarding the way students are tested into college classes. Compass, as many of you are familiar with, is the testing software used by Seattle Colleges to correctly place students into pre-requisite classes. As of spring quarter, Seattle Colleges will no longer be using Compass.

It is still unclear how North is going to replace Compass, or if there will be any placement testing in the future. The Student Cabinet plans to keep all students updated as more information is provided. CAS meetings are open to everyone and we invite you to sit in on the meetings. The committee meets every second Tuesday of the month in the President's Boardroom from 2:30s to 4:30.

APPLY NOW to attend the Students of Color Conference April 21-23!

Interested in racial justice and identity? Want to strengthen your sense of community, build your skill set as an activist, and educate yourself more about race and ethnicity? Consider going to the Students of Color Conference!

Every year, Student Leadership takes a group of NSC students to this three-day event in Yakima, WA. Apply by March 4—if accepted, all your expenses will be paid, including hotel, food, transportation, and registration fees. Applications are available at the Student Leadership office (CC1446), the library Reference Desk, and online:
studentleadership.northseattle.edu/socc.

Info Sessions: Wednesday February 10 in the Grove Seminar Room (HS 1541A) 1:00-1:30 and 1:30-2:00. Stop by to learn more, ask questions, and hear from students who attended last year!
