Assessment Committee Meeting

November 7th, 2014, 2:00pm-3:12pm

II. Discussion Items:

- a. Upcoming Accreditation of the College
- b. Problems with ALFs and Possible Solutions ( Assessment Loop Form)

III. Items of Interest to the Student Cabinet and/or SAC:

- a. Upcoming Accreditation of the College/ Problems with ALFs and Possible Solutions: In March and April 2015, the college will submit its Year Seven Accreditation Report, which is a report necessary for a college to get reaccredited and have their credits transferred to other institutions. Big part of that accreditation process that the college is vulnerable on is "The institution engages in an effective system of evaluation of its program and serves, wherever offered and however delivered, to evaluate achievement of clearly-identified program goals or intended outcomes. Faculty have primary role in the evaluation of education program and serves." Since very small percentage of professors complete their ALFs, we have no data to show that the faculty is striving to improve their teaching. Therefore, the majority of the committee meeting was focused on how to increase the number of ALF submissions from professors. Julie and Jack presented some of the solutions that they heard on a conference they went to. Overall, some of the solutions proposed during the committee were: creating ALFs filling-out meetings, creating an ALF of the Year award, creating a celebratory event highlighting best ALFs, rewording some language on the ALF to make it more appealing, recreating ALFs to be more easy to complete.
